Our Problems, Several
Crime's Big Income
Again, Prof. Einstein
Why Women Chatter

By Arthur Brisbane

Bonus said: "Anybody could lead my head as well as I could, for a little while."

Anybody can lead the United States while everything is going cheerfully. Any President can look like a great President, any corporation head like a great corporation head, when the money is rolling in faster than the people can spend it.

Real qualities are shown when times are NOT so good, values of securities dropping, workers losing their jobs. To say that not very much has been done to take active charge of discouraging conditions, is not criticizing anybody.

The nation has had "wished" upon it a wet-dry problem, and with it such an outbreak of crime as the world has never heard of.

Men may think as they please about prohibition and its wisdom. But they cannot have two opinions about the crime wave. The city of Chicago alone pays gangsters a yearly income as big as the total income of the government from beer and whiskey in the old days.

The income of the organized criminal classes in the United States is greater than the income of the United States Government itself, with all its billions.

It would take a Mussolini and a drastic Mussolini methods to deal with that crime situation.

At Perth Amboy, N. J., a powerful explosion injured 59, killed two women, starting a disastrous fire that destroyed several buildings. Those that write our history a hundred years hence will be interested in the fact that the police sought only two explanations, a private bootlegging still blown up, or "building racketeers" blowing up a building because contractors refused to "come across."

Einstein produces a new explanation of the inexpressible. Time and gravitation, it seems, amount to little. The great reality is "space." In other words, "when the earth was without form, and void, and darkness was upon the face of the deep," practically nothing happened, was lacking, since space was there.

When a scientist talks in language that you do not understand, it is dangerous to contradict him. But when you visit the Museum of the Future, you find in one spacious room the most magnificent of all existing works of art, the Venus of Milo.

According to Einstein, the empty space around the statue would seem to be the important thing.

A commonplace man says the statue, the creation of human genius, is forty-seven trillion times more important than the space around it.

If space had been the important thing, why should divine Providence have taken so much trouble to create so much matter, including miserable humanity?

German scientists named Freudenberg and Colson, in a paper, say "woman's chatter is physiological, not a defect of character." Man's chatter, however, is a defect of character, and is not physiological. The female jaw, however, is a defect of character, and is not physiological.

All that is scientific nonsense. Women have chattered more than men because women talked serious work when through with bearing children and caring for them. Women, with occupation while white, do not chatter.

Madame Curie, for instance, does not chatter. Her sagging did not chatter. Her sagging was concentrated on poetry. Queen Elizabeth did not chatter. The talked poetry, with purpose.

Give women something better to do, and they won't chatter.

Dr. E. A. Sperry died yesterday in Brooklyn, aged 69. How many know his name?

He invented the Sperry gyro-compass, gyro-compass, aeroplane and ship stabilizers.

These discoveries, more than any others, may make possible the final perfected flying machine. Sperry's name 100 years hence will undoubtedly be better known than the name of any statesman now living.

Another day for speculators in Wall Street yesterday, when low prices were marked the beginning of the rally. The selling of stocks, many for less than their value, justified Otto H. Kahn's statement that Americans must do something, so when their stocks won't go up they force them down by selling.

The tariff was blamed. Some

Morrows Vote Early in Jersey Primary

Newark, N. J., June 17.—The red-hot issue of prohibition—the chance to elect a governor—has proved the magnet today that drew Jerseyites to the polls in tremendous numbers to vote for the senatorial candidate that stood for their views.

The Democratic choice lay between Dwight W. Morrow and ex-Senator "Joe" Frelinghuysen, both advocating the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, and Congressman Franklin Fort, a bonafide for whom the anti-alcohol league has labored as it had to do in the past.

The Democratic choice was 100 per cent wet, represented by Alexander Hamilton, who gained prominence as the prosecutor of the Hall-Mills murder case. He was known as "Boss" Hamilton.

VOTING IS SPOTTY
The early voting was spotty, being light in some sections and unusually heavy in others. In the heavy part of the vote is expected to be cast late today. The Jersey polls will remain open until 9 p. m., affording voting opportunities to tens of thousands who come to the polls.

COURT WON'T CASH RUM BRIBERY CHARGE

Judge William A. Burns in Superior Court today denied another motion to quash indictments against Oliver B. Garrett and others, and took under advisement a motion for a bill of particulars.

Attorney Herbert C. Callahan intended to file a motion asking for a postponement of Garrett's trial until October. Judge Burns said he would announce his decision tomorrow on all matters pending in the case.

The motion denied today was based on the allegation that his indictment charging conspiracy to extort sets forth different acts, each of which is a distinct offense, but the indictment sets out only one specific crime.

The motion for the bill of particulars was based on the allegation that his indictment charging conspiracy to extort sets forth different acts, each of which is a distinct offense, but the indictment sets out only one specific crime.

Atty. Callahan wants to know the time the alleged threat was made by Garrett, the place it was made, the words used and the circumstances under which it was made. Garrett accepted bribes and gratuity, the motion asked that 35 different particulars be set forth.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Frederick T. Doane said it was unnecessary to set forth particulars as the indictment fully defined the offense.

William Callahan said he did not want to file his motion for postponement until a ruling had been made on all other motions. Doyle urged immediate assignment for trial.

Great Crowds Cheer Bunker Hill Parade

Cheers from the throngs of many thousands appraised about Bunker Hill Monument today, as a marching host from Charlestown's glorious old, ensnared forever in American annals 155 years ago by the blood of the sturdy patriots who battled to the death.

The throng was a huge one, gathering from near and far, and doing full justice to this two-observance of the anniversary of Bunker Hill and the Hub's tercentennial.

The crowd, which began to assemble as the children of the district held their sporting events and other festivities in the forenoon, remained to cheer the last unit of the parade.

Stock Prices Rally on Market Support

New York, June 17.—The drastic decline in stock prices was checked today by large scale supporting orders, although an enormous volume of selling was dropped upon the market in the early transactions evidently representing the liquidation of impaired marginal accounts.

Pivotal shares generally worked higher after the initial dealings. The market entered the final hour with a strong tone and the ticker a little more than a half-hour late, after being behind a full hour.

The market was helped by a firmer tone in the cotton and grain markets during the early hours of the day, but further price cutting in cotton, announced during the early afternoon, provided another unfavorable factor. Some custom smelters were said to be quoting domestic copper at 14 1/2 cents a pound, the lowest since the start of the World War.

DEFERRED TRAFFIC FLOOD OF STOCK MARKET CRASH

'PROSPERITY' DECKS DEER MADE

Effort Is Aimed at Educating Public to Spirit of Confidence in New Measure

By GEORGE F. DUNNE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Washington, June 17.—In the face of the stock market break, the Hoover administration is planning to arouse a series of "prosperity statements," each one in defense of the Hawley-Smoot-Grundy "hillion-dollar" tariff bill.

The strategy to stem the tide and "educate" the public into a feeling of confidence in the tariff will involve issuance, piecemeal, of reports of the various industries and departments analyzing the measure. Thus there will be statements by the Treasury Department, the tariff commission and others.

This parallel to the action the administration took last November, when the first great crash of the market occurred. At that time Mr. Hoover had industrial leaders in conferences in groups, each one being followed by a statement of reassurance and promise of stability in the near future.

At the White House there is every disposition to dispute the charges that the President's tariff statement started a stock market tumble. It has been announced he would not let it be known that there would have been just as much likelihood of a drop.

Ships Rushing Cargoes to Port to Beat New Tariff

New York, June 17 (AP)—Merchandise ships were rushing cargoes to American ports today in an effort to clear their cargoes before the new tariff bill goes into effect and adds thousands of dollars in increased duties.

Customs officials have been swamped during the last three days with applications for tariff drawings from customs warehouses. Duties on goods with drawings have amounted to $100,000 since last Saturday.

Importers said many ships which fail to reach port in time will be manifestly in violation of the law and will be diverted to other countries with their cargoes, which would be sold at a loss here under the new tariff.

Canada Will Rely Upon Countervailing Duties

Brantford, Ont., June 17 (AP)—The wisdom of the American tariff in the opening of Premier Mackenzie King is for the United States to decide for herself, but Canada, through her countervailing duties, has announced her intention of trading with those who are equally prepared to trade with her.

In an address opening the Liberal party's election campaign last night, Mr. Mackenzie King said that countervailing duties were designed to give a fraction of compensation to the United States of the duties of Canada to trade at all times on fair and equal terms.

"The present administration," he said, "has watched the revolution of the American tariff with the closest interest. We cannot but regret that in respect of a considerable range of merchandise the tariff duties have been raised against the importation of Canadian products."

Heavy Sugar Cargoes Arrive at New Orleans

New Orleans, June 17 (AP)—The prospect of President Hoover signing the tariff bill without delay has resulted in one of the heaviest movements of sugar through the port of New Orleans in years.

E. F. Koelle, acting collector of customs, said today that the sugar duty valued at $1,200,000 was brought in, while on Saturday the duty was $200,000. Yesterday's figures contained a $200,000 shipment for one firm alone.

Passengers on Fairfax to Testify

Several Will Go on the Stand Tomorrow When Federal Inquiry Is Resumed

With several passengers expected to testify, the Boston inquiry into the Fairfax-Peninsular disaster will resume tomorrow at the Appraisers' Stores.

Although the local hearing closed today because of the holiday, the hearing at Norfolk, Va., continued.

It was also brought out at the Coast Guard hearing in Gloucester that the Fairfax had been in the water for nearly 100 hours before the Coast Guard cutter, the USS Albatross, found her.

ONE JOY HOP' COVERS THREE STATES

By GEORGE HAMBLEN

During "joy hop" passenger service three states for the price of a short hop is the newest wrinkle offered in commercial aviation. It was revealed today when Toss Owen, chief pilot of Miles Airways, Canada, Ct., landed at Boston Airport.

Owen was flying a four-place Travel Air cabin monoplane, and had as passenger the owner of the company, C. E. Miles. The pair dropped in for a motor check at East Coast Airplane Corp., and then the story came out.

FLIES OVER N. Y.
The company's field at Cannon is right on the Massachusetts line, with one-quarter of the field in Massachusetts and the rest in Connecticut. Situated as it is, right near the New York State border, Owen takes off in his home state, flies over a part of New York, then crosses into Massachusetts, and then returns to his field.

The visitors were met at Boston airport by George Watkins, famous barnstorming pilot of years past, and Watkins informed the listeners that Owen and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh were both working for the same company before Lindbergh flew the ocean.

LINDY GOT JOB
"Yes, I give my passengers a long ride for their money," said Owen, laughingly. "When I make the circuit of the three states, I sing out as we cross the different boundaries."

"Lindbergh took my job with Robertson Aircraft Corp. when that outfit got the mail contract, but I was known then, had the germ of my career hop in his mind, but when I left the airport at St. Louis in my Canard he walked into the job I was offered."

CANNON REPORT DUE IN SENATE

Washington, June 17 (AP)—The report of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Virginia, to answer questions propounded by the Senate lobby committee is expected to be reported in the Senate today by Chairman Cawley.

Sen. President Curtis will be asked to rule on whether this report must be reported to the U. S. attorney for possible contempt proceedings. Supporters of Bishop Cannon assert no action is required because the committee excused him from answering.

Rep. George Holden Tinkham (R), of Massachusetts, whose charges resulted in Bishop Cannon's appearance before the lobby committee, is also planning to speak in the House on Cannon's defiance of the committee.

OPENS PARLEY'S WITH GANDHI

London, June 17 (AP)—A bomb bay dispatch to the Telegraph graph Company today said Sir Prabhakar Patil, acting on behalf of the government, had arrived at Poona and opened negotiations with Mahatma Gandhi, imprisoned National leader, for abandonment of the civil disobedience campaign.

It was understood Sir Prabhakar was trying to reach a compromise with the Mahatma on four points previously advanced by him. It was believed that any settlement would presuppose abandonment of the civil disobedience movement and the government's granting of amnesty to all politicians.

Fisherman Racer Hauled Off Shore

Malifax, N. S. June 17 (AP)—The schooner, Bluenose, champion racer of the North Atlantic fishing fleet, which has been ashore at Point Beulah in Pictou Bay, Newfoundland, was hauled off early today by the Canadian government steamer Arctur.

The master and fishery department was told the Bluenose was not damaged seriously. The Arctur took the schooner in tow.

THE FAIRBANKS HOME, DEDHAM

A PROUD POSSESSION of Dedham is the old Fairbanks house, which had stood for nearly 200 years as a sturdy example of the New England home. Generation after generation has dwelt within it and the members of its family have always been public-spirited and outstanding in national affairs.

Charles Warren Fairbanks was Vice President of the United States. Pride of family and loyalty to the home site caused descendants to organize a national association and through their efforts the primitive simplicity and picturesque atmosphere of early New England have been admirably preserved. Each year a host of visitors pass through the low doors of the house, so low that one of medium height must bend the head a trifle.

The dwelling was built by James Fairbanks, ancestor of the family in America, not later than 1644. A member of very old English family, he came to New England, and then a few years later, to Dedham.

THREE SECTIONS

The building is in three sections, a main part with two wings. The center portion has a steep-pitched roof which extends down over a narrow nearly to the ground. In front, eight windows of uneven size are irregularly placed, while the chimney is the focal point of the house.

The western wing, almost 200 years old, is really a separate house built up against the older structure and connected by a door. The windows and later fittings came from England.

The frame is of solid oak. For many years an arrow shot by an Indian struck into the roof but it is no longer in evidence.

From Jonathan, the home descended to his son John, who, upon his death, passed the property to his youngest son. Finally Ebenezer, Jr., came into possession at the period of the Revolution.

MINUTE MAN

He was born 1758 and became a Minute-man, taking part in the thick of the fight. He died in 1832, and the family still retains possession of the picturesque dwelling of their forefathers, having remained annually within its doors.

The old dwelling stands strongly for family life and genuine New England stability and traditions of character which helped to build the United States in its present place in the world. Dedham, with its lovely old trees, and homelike atmosphere, may be reached from Forest Hills Elevated terminal or by following Route No. 1 toward Providence.

NONE BARRED IN WORD HUNT

Letters are coming to the Ripley Word Hunt Editor from many points outside of Boston.

"Must one live in Boston to participate in the word hunt?" is a frequent query in these letters.

Anyone, living anywhere, not employed by the Boston American or Boston Sunday Advertiser, or a member of an employer's immediate family is eligible to the $200 in prizes.

The Boston American and Boston Sunday Advertiser have a wide circulation not only in Boston but elsewhere and are glad to welcome in the contest any persons eligible to join.

No age limit and all eligibles, and join this great competition in the merry game, the idea of which is to find in the Boston American-Sunday Advertiser Classified Ads hidden descriptions for Ripley Word Hunt pictures.

Picture Set No. 8 and descriptions appear today. You may be missing back copies but they may be obtained at 5 Westin 2nd, Boston, Mass., or by mail.

Listen in every day on Station WJLB at 11 a. m. and 6 p. m. for the amusing Radio Skit based on each day's Ripley's "Word Hunt" pictures.

WHAT HERBERT B. EHRMANN HAD TO SAY

We talked today with Bernard J. Rothwell at the North Ward Society and Lawyer Ehrmann of the Civil Liberties committee regarding the newly amended censorship law on books. Mr. Rothwell is vigorous and elderly and tells you just what he thinks right off the bat. He is a fair expert as well as a censor of books, having offices in the old grain exchange. The D. H. Lawrence book, "Lady Chatterley's Lover," still excited in Mr. Rothwell's mind. The W. and W. Society got a conviction, but not a very satisfactory one. We asked him if he had read the book? "No," replied Mr. Rothwell, "I did not read the book, but I did see a review of it. A correspondent of the society has written in and told me what he thought of it." He said there were many pages of Lady Chatterley's Love which were unfit to read.

We called Mr. Rothwell's attention to the difference of opinion regarding the works of D. H. Lawrence. "I am citing one prominent English critic who wrote after Mr. Lawrence's death that the book was the only English writer under a woman's name would endure."

"So that was that for Lawrence," he asked. "The complete works of William Shakespeare?" Mr. Rothwell was apologetic in his reply.

There is no definite answer to that question, we are constantly getting those brackets of literature buried at it. "There are, of course, passages from all the classics which we don't think fit for everybody to read."

He then cited some American classics. "We read a copy of those books," he asked Mr. Rothwell. "No replied the censor, 'but I have seen a couple of them. I do not exclusively censors of books. . . . The sex acts have work to do. . . . such as watching public morality in general. For example, the society is not particularly interested in the liquor question. . . . If we run across a bootlegger or other extra legal activities occasionally in the course of our activities, we feel obliged to report such cases to the police, but it is not incidental to our regular work."

Refusing the newly would law, Mr. Rothwell said a few cases would probably clarify it.

RAVES LOSE TO REDS BY 11-1 SCORE

Little Benny Frey, who isn't good enough for the Red Sox last year, was much too good for the Braves in their third game with the Reds and visitors scored an 11 to 1 victory.

In Cincinnati, and would have created the feat but for Walter Berger, who batted out his 18th home run of the season in the seventh inning for the lone native counter.

Rolfe to Captain Dartmouth Nine

Hanover, N. H., June 17.—Robert A. Rolfe of Penacook was elected captain of the Dartmouth baseball team for next year and Sidney Goodman was elected captain of next year's Cornell nine at the close of the Cornell-Dartmouth game yesterday.

Rolfe has played at short for the Green nine for two years and led the Eastern Intercollegiate League in batting last year.

Goodman plays third base for the Ithacans.

CAMPOLLO HERE FOR BATTLE

Vittorio Campolo, giant gauchero of the Argentine who is to box Salavatore Ruggiello of Italy in a 10-round heavy-weight battle at Brava field next Monday night, arrived here last night and will start training at one of the local gymnasia this afternoon.

Ruggiello will arrive here today and will complete his training at one of the local manoirs. A rival in this country, has done most of his fighting in New York and Chicago.

He is something of a puncher on his own account as his quick-

France Wants Carnera to Fight in Army Uniform

Paris, June 17 (US)—France would like to have Primo Carnera come back to do his fighting in the ranks of his country's army, rather than alone in the spotlights of America's boxing arenas.

The Italian battles with gloves, and rifle and bayonet—today we proclaimed "bon poue se servive" and simultaneously "hon absent" by kneelout victories over Mike Sankowitz, Jack League and Pete Wiestert. For his most important victory in this country was in Chicago a few months ago when he was whipped by a Kennedy, Cato sensation, in 10 thrilling rounds.

SONNY IN TEST
WITH MCGOY

The heavyweight wrestling championship of the world may change hands and a week from Thursday night at the Boston Garden, when Roy "Bubba" McCreedy of Cambridgeport will wrestle veteran Gene Dandeneau, charged at Dynamite Gymnastics in a finish match.

The bout will bring together two former college football stars, Boston College's McCreedy and Dartmouth's Dandeneau, who were members of the Holy Cross. Each of them depends on a flying tackle, the most spectacular grip known to the sport of wrestling, and the bout is expected to be the most sensational of the night.

McCreedy is a former All-American at 300 pounds, better in a way at school

The match is attracting attention not only throughout New England but also throughout the country.

Sonnenberg has held the title since Jan. 6, 1929. Time after time he has been on the verge of defeat, but his knuckles have carried him through. Never was he closer to defeat than when he wrestled McCoy in the Arena months ago. McCoy won a fall and had the crown in his hands when he stumbled under the dead weight of Sonnenberg, fell backwards, and had his shoulders accidentally pinned to the mat.

Kojac Sets World Mark for 200 Yds.

New Haven, June 17 (U. S.).—George Kojac of Rutgers broke the world's backstroke record for 100 yards yesterday.

Kojac swam the 200 yards in the remarkable time of 2 minutes 32.1-5 seconds. This is seven seconds better than his own mark of 2:39.1-5 made in 1927, which was a world record.

bridge youngster again in a turn bout, and he offered Joe Sherry a bonus of $5000 if Sherry should whip the Bibber. McClellan, however, smashed Sherry to the mat, and last week gave Joe McClellan a terrific lacing.

Then Sonnenberg accepted the bout, but only after he was guaranteed $25,000 with a privilege of 35 per cent of the receipts and moving picture rights. If he loses his title—and it is no certain bet that he won't—Herr Sonnenberg intends to be well paid for it.

He will take part in no matches this week preceding the bout, and will start public training at the end of the local event on Feb. 10.

LEWISTON AND NASHUA OUT

Nashua and Lewiston were dropped from the New England League and all the players were at liberty to play wherever they pleased, according to Claude Davidson, president of the league.

The league will continue with four clubs for the rest of the season, and the league proxy will be ready to give out the schedule some time this week for the rest of the season.

Players in both clubs were mired in their salary for the past three weeks, and only last Saturday the Nashua team refused to take the field until Gene Fraser, secretary of the league, persuaded them to do so.

Lewiston, playing its last game, defeated the Lynn club at the Lynn Stadium, to the tune of 10 to 3. Andy Mulligan, former Boston Red Sox pitcher, was the first to get a three-hitter, but his first game was in three starts when he weakened in the closing innings.

The Lynn game which was scheduled for Manchester today has been shifted to the Shene City

TRAIN BLOCKS FIREMEN

Worcester, June 17.—While eight pieces of fire apparatus were prevented by a long freight train from making immediate response to an alarm, flames swept a six-family house in Earle ter. today, causing $10,000 damage, and injuring one person.

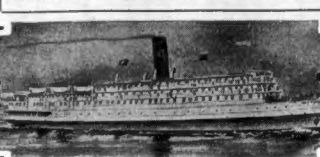

Mrs. Michael Donahue, 40, was burned about the face and arms, about 20 to 25 to safety. The apparatus was blocked at the Lincoln sq. grade crossing of the Boston & Maine and over the top of the cars the firemen could see the smoke rolling from the fire. There is a hospital near the scene and many believed that justification was burning.

Danely Chief Fred E. Taylor said the delay caused by the train was more than five minutes.

$2500 IN CASH PRIZES Free

Many have written asking if it is possible to start now. The answer is YES! Come on and get YOUR share of the fun and cash prizes! If you missed the first 7 sets of pictures, you can get the first 6 by sending 10c, plus 2c for postage, for June 15 Boston Sunday Advertiser, and 2c, plus 2c postage, for Monday, June 16, Boston American. Then you're all ready to start. The idea is simple. Look at the pictures—then turn to the Classified Ads and find the descriptions, and paste them under the right pictures.

SAVE ALL PICTURES AND DESCRIPTIONS UNTIL YOU GET THIRTY SETS—OR 300 PICTURES IN ALL Remember—We Are Also Repeating MONDAY'S Descriptions TODAY

"Believe It Or Not" . . . By Ripley

FOLLOW THESE RULES

- Everyone is eligible to participate in the "Word Hunt" except members of the Boston Evening American, Boston Sunday Advertiser, and members of their families.
- Every day, from June 15 to July 15 (July 15th excepted) ten little "chapters" of the "Word Hunt" pictures (without descriptions) will be published. The descriptions for each picture will be published in the Classified Ad Columns.
- The "Word Hunt" consists in finding the descriptions in the Classified Ads, clipping them out, and placing each under the picture in which it refers. The words making up each description will appear in a single unit in one place.
- Find all the pictures until you have thirty complete sets of ten each—30 pictures in all. Then send them in to Ripley's "Word Hunt" Editor, Boston, Mass.
- All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight Thursday, July 17. No entries will be returned to sender.
- For thousands of five hundred dollars in cash prizes, in accordance with the complete rules published herewith, will be paid to the persons securing in the end, forty correct and correct complete sets of pictures at the close of the "Word Hunt."
- A committee of judges will be appointed by the Boston Evening American and the Boston Sunday Advertiser to determine the successful contestants. All entries agree to accept the decision of these judges as final.
- It is not necessary to purchase the Boston Evening American and the Boston Sunday Advertiser to compete. This newspaper may be examined at its office or at the public libraries free of charge, and if you wish you may copy or trace the pictures from the Boston Evening American and the Boston Sunday Advertiser and then assemble the sets from the copies you have made.

THOUSANDS OF SCENARIOS ARE RETURNED YEARLY

By MICHAEL L. SIMMONS
Scenario Editor, Sono Art-World Wide Pictures

Is writing for the movies an art or a profession? The answer is: "Neither; it's an epidemic!" Apparently, the revered custom of presenting dad and brother with ties or both slippers on their birthdays has been superseded by the indiscriminate presentation of portable typewriters. The same is true of the mater, sis and the traffic cop.

picture industry? More specifically, each year throughout the country—in the isolated mountain hut, in the mining town, in the big city, in the remote cubicles or on the cluttered streets—on one hundred thousand screens, persons write at the typewriter, motion picture story, more than three or four

SCORES

A new Nancy Carroll is seen at the Scollay Square this week in her latest starring vehicle, Devil's Holiday. She has one of the best roles of her career, that of the emotional characterizations of Hattie Horne, a hard-digging, hard-boiled muckraker who declares that she will win and is simply using men to attain her goal—riches.

The vaudeville at the Scollay proved to be the big-class variety, with plenty of comedy and dispensers throughout. High on the bill was Charlie Remington and his Big Band, a new orchestra band, which was a great favorite

What happens to the surplus?" The answer is seen in the trademarked "No Surplus" slogan, the messenger of regret—the rejection slip. I, alas, am responsible for sending on their ways at least 200 "No Surplus" letters, and I would like to thank the many well-selected people—and shameful confession—many of them, I am sure, never read!

The serious faces of the producers have a pronounced policy against buying unpublished material. "We don't want to offend anyone while that piece was running out a year on Broadway," says the O'Neill Brothers, located in the city of New York. "If we did, we went over mighty big, as did Dave Vine in his sketch 'The Upright Street'."

Powers and Wallace are seen in "Georgia on Broadway," and Jerome and Herbert in "Laughing on the Moon." The comedians sit at the Scollay playhouse, were again seen in new dances.

The film itself is humanly a strange piece of work. It is a study in the extremes of the human mind. To examine all the material vulgarity of the picture is to miss the point. There are many fresh and original ideas in the picture, and a plot of rejected material. But rather than invest the time necessary to find out what the picture is, the audience, they are content to shove their whole heads out the back door.

Producers, too, are afraid to hold their own. They are afraid to read scripts from unknown authors because of past and present experience with the vulgar and the plagiarist. And, so, the scenario with George Cukor aiming one of the cameras at the back of the audience proved real light-nights on the screen.

"The Spoilers"

Harry Green has been cast for "The Spoilers" and Fred and Freda Lewis is to direct for Paramount.

It would had better buy saxophones as an outlet to playing energies. Their prayers to the gods of music are not likely to fall on ears plugged with the soft fleece of insularity.

Lymans Give Dance for Daughter

Future Debutante Welcomed Home After Year Spent in Paris

MRS. RONALD LYMAN gave a dance Saturday night for her charming daughter, Charlotte, who will be a debutante of the 1930-31 season. It was a small and informal affair as all of the smart debutantes will be this year, we hear, there being only a dozen maidens and about twice as many men present.

The men were drawn from the elder group, most of them being friends of Miss Lyman's brother, Ronald, Jr., who graduated from Harvard last year. Among the girls present were the Misses Barbara Bremer, Marie Johnston, Susan Brewer, Anna Warren, Lorna Livermore and Francis Cardiner. Miss Lyman wore a Parisian gown and looked stunning as usual, she has just returned from a year in Paris.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM TUCKER, Saturday's bride couple of Groton, married on 10 New York in father's car and will leave on a train here today for a year in France.

MRS. ALAN SPRAGUE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phineas Sprague, are now in their summer estate at Ponds Neck, Maine, is going abroad, one of the teachers from Foxcroft for a year's study in Paris. Miss Sally has had a very gay season and will now take a year off to devote herself to serious pursuits, French and music.

Miss Sylvia Weld to Be at Playhouse in Surrey, Maine

MRS. SYLVIA WELD, daughter of the Rudolph Welds, has returned from her theatrical venture at Rochester, where she has been playing in the stock since the first of March. After July 1, Miss Weld will be at the Playhouse at Surrey, Me., which she will be in charge of. She has been in charge of the playhouse since the first of March, and has been very successful. THE TACHT PETER, BE-LONGING to Mr. Paul Bates, is sailing for New London for the Harvard and Yale boat races on Thursday. The craft is most picturesque with its intricate carvings and is one of the finest and most skilled schooners in the world. Among the merry party will be Wellington Glover, Allan Whitcomb, Mary Chadwick, Holland Reale, William Glines, Margaret Ann Wehrmann of St. Joseph, Mo.; Ann Cutler of Long Island, Judith Kelly of Hamilton, Haro, and Marjorie Von Krause of New York and Paul Bates, who will stop at Newport before returning to Marblehead.

King and Queen of Italy Send Medal to Society Leader

MRS. Plenty of Ice Whenever You Need It

Forest chunks of ice, clear as the purest crystal, ready to drop into big, handy pitchers or hospitable beverage shakers. Chunks that chill without melting in fact that they dilute the contents of the pitcher. Plenty of ice whenever it is needed. That is one of the reasons why the Boston Iceman is so popular these days. People want real ice for festive occasions. And they want it delivered on time. The calls of the Boston Iceman are being carefully scheduled as the arrivals and departures of passenger trains. And the quality of this sparkling ice needs no press agent.

Federation Fine Woolens Endorsed for Restaurant Wear

Directors Resign

Mrs. Thomas G. Rees and Mrs. J. Norman Jeffrey, Joint State Board

By NANCY BREWSTER. Two district directors have resigned from the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Although the resignations were given just after the State meeting in Swampscott last May, the withdrawal from federation ranks of Mrs. Thomas G. Rees, fourth district director, and Mrs. J. Norman Jeffrey, sixth district director, became known today.

Their successors have not yet been selected, the appointments awaiting the return to Massachusetts of Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, new State president of the Federation, who is at present in Denver. Mrs. Rees confirmed news of her resignation, explaining that her presidency of the General Alliance of Unitarian Women, an organization of 25,000 such women in the United States and Canada, will take her out to California and away from her home the best part of next year.

OTHER DIRECTORS. Elected in such official position a year ago, she has another year to go and she plans to devote all her time to that office. One of the best beloved district directors of the State Federation, she had a long and successful career in the Federation with higher offices in the office.

That she chose to give all that up now in favor of the General Alliance of Unitarian Women came as a distinct blow to the club over whom she held the guiding rein and for whom she was the guiding spirit. Philosophical by nature, she was an inspiration to the thousands of clubwomen in her district. That her resignation brings a great loss to the State Federation is indisputable. Clubs in Allston, Brookline, Brighton, Dedham, Jamaica Plain and Roxbury came under her supervision.

DIRECTOR ONLY A YEAR. Mrs. Jeffrey also led 24 clubs along Federation paths, ever preaching the Federation creed to clubwomen of Boston, Chittenden, Danvers, Haverhill, Ipswich, Lowell, Lynn, Manchester, Methuen, Nahant, Peabody, Rockport, Salem, Seabrook and Swampscott.

At the Federation meeting at the New Orleans House, Mrs. Jeffrey, in giving her annual report as director, hinted not without her contemplation of withdrawal. She pictured a glowing picture of the splendid and rapid success achieved by the clubwomen with whom she met and conferred. She had been district director for only a year.

Mrs. Emma Schofield Awarded Degree by Boston University

It is with real pleasure that I print this bit of news about Mrs. Emma Schofield, a well-known attorney-general of Massachusetts and president of the Women's Club of Boston. Mrs. Schofield received her master's degree from Boston University yesterday, having only recently completed her thesis on "The Law of the Future".

North Dakota Women Will Honor Pioneer Mothers of State

As a hint to Massachusetts clubwomen, this short item from General Federation News, official organ of the parent organization, is of interest. North Dakota Federation of Women's Clubs, appreciating the Pioneer Mothers of the state, is sponsoring the erection of a statue, "The Pioneer Mother," to be placed on the grounds of the state capital at Bismarck.

From Paris Bureau, Boston Evening American

Paris, June 17.

WOOL MIXES IN was through the mode into the wardrobe of the best-dressed women here. Paris is once more crowded and sparkling with animation, and every fashionable rendezvous and restaurant displays ever so many smart women dressed not in chiffons or silk crepes but in dresses of fine woolens, smartly tailored and impeccably detailed.

Dresses and coats on this order seem to be the unanimous choice this season of both young and mature women who find delight in simple well-cut clothes built on straight lines and to insure good looking comfort. Homespuns, wool crepes, wool velvets and light weight tweeds are first favorites for material honors this season, and most of these fabrics are hold-overs from last autumn.

Last year the flock of light weight woolens which was so popular in the wardrobe of the best-dressed women here, Paris is once more crowded and sparkling with animation, and every fashionable rendezvous and restaurant displays ever so many smart women dressed not in chiffons or silk crepes but in dresses of fine woolens, smartly tailored and impeccably detailed.

To give the reader of this an adequate idea of what is what in Paris, we present a selection of fashions worn by the very well turned-out women who were lining the Vieux. The first drawing is of a woolen suit dress in dark brown with a light plaided line in beige and a belt belted in dark brown.

The circular flounce on the bodice gives the effect of a short skirt. It is somewhat wider at the front. A circular plume is placed rather low on the skirt and below it the skirt flares in a circular movement. Domestic lead production amounted to 52,818 short tons (2000 metric tons) in May, against 55,547 tons in April.

1929, according to American Bureau of Metal Statistics.

Shipments of lead amounted to 51,871 tons in May, against 64,100 tons in March.

Stock of lead on hand at the end of May aggregated 49,538 tons, compared with 42,015 tons at the end of April and 42,468 tons at the end of March.

That some of the railroad stocks are getting to levels where the yield should attract an investment demand is probable, although at the moment there is no other incentive for buying. Southern Pacific is considered by many as being in this class. The price of the common stock of the stock are not looked upon as great, but it is maintained that the $8 a share dividend is in no danger.

and at current prices the stock gives an investment yield of between 5 1/2 and 5 3/4 per cent. Frequently during breaks in the market investment issues are thrown over to protect holders in more speculative shares. Such selling probably came into Southern Pacific at times recently.

Early in January authorities in

Bank of Boston eptance buying

United States Steel told friends that 1930 would be a normal year, comparing with previous periods when dulness developing during the summer months, after a fair spring, to be followed in the fall by improved buying which would open operations upward from the bottom. At that time these views were ignored because of over-enthusiastic predictions of capacity operations by days to 2½ per cent, 1 to 90 days 2½ per cent, 90 to 120 days 2½ per cent, 120 to 180 days 2½ per cent.

Many who purchased Steel common during the optimistic market period have been forced to liquidate recently as margins became impaired. Thus, payment has been made for the folly of over-enthusiasm.
